

The Sailor's Return - Samuel Davis Otis (1889-1961) - Painted Plaster Shadowbox, c.1930-1940.

Legend painted on the back:

"The Sailor's Return"
by Samuel Davis Otis
whos great grandfather James Gorham took whalers out of Nantucket.

Our 85th year of buying and selling Nantucket related and other folk art and fine antiques.

15 MAIN STREET & 6 RAY'S COURT NANTUCKET, MA 02554 508-228-0960 WWW.SYLVIAANTIQUES.COM

HIGHLIGHTS

William Vareika receiving Lifetime Achievement in the Humanities Award from Rhode Island Council on the Humanities Board member Kate Kilguss. Photography by Jori Ketten.

William Vareika Receives Lifetime Achievement in the Humanities Award

On September 22, Newport gallery owner William Vareika was honored by the Rhode Island Council on the Humanities with the "Honorary Chairs' Award for Lifetime Achievement in the Humanities" at the 10th annual Celebration of the Humanities event in Providence. Vareika was honored for "his lifetime dedication to the preservation and appreciation of historic art and architecture in Rhode Island."

Impressions of Interiors: Gilded Age Paintings by Walter Gay

By Isabel L. Taube with Nina R. Gray, Priscilla Vail Caldwell, and Sara J. Hall (D. Giles Ltd)

224 pages; 105 color and 20 b/w illus.; hardback; ISBN 978-1-907804-08-3

To order call 800.462.6420 or visit custserv@nbnbooks.com

This beautifully illustrated volume offers a fresh assessment of the stylish, light-filled interiors painted by American artist Walter Gay (1856–1937) from the mid-1890s to the early 1930s. A collector and tastemaker, as well as a painter, essays explore Gay's place in collecting and interior decoration, and the influences on his work.

